Andrew Lensch • University Place, WA • andrewlensch19@gmail.com • andrewlensch.xyz

Entry-level IT support and web enthusiast with hands-on PC building and troubleshooting, beginner Python/Java, and modern web UI work. Seeking a junior role to grow, learn fast, and contribute to reliable systems and clean user experiences.

Skills

- IT/Systems: PC assembly, hardware/software troubleshooting, Windows basics, basic networking
- Languages: Python (beginner), Java (beginner), HTML/CSS/JavaScript (fundamentals)
- Web: SvelteKit, Tailwind CSS, modern UI patterns, accessibility and performance basics
- Tools: VS Code, Git, Adobe Photoshop & Premiere Pro, OBS Studio
- Soft skills: customer service, communication, teamwork, time management

---

Work Experience

Domino's Pizza #7102 — Team Member (2025-07 – Present)

- Provide customer service in a fast-paced environment; support store operations.
- Collaborate with team members to meet demand while maintaining quality and accuracy.

Projects

Tacoma Web Works — Founder & Web Designer (2025 – Present)

University Place, WA • Built a professional site to offer client services; end-to-end from scope to deployment.

- Designed and launched the Tacoma Web Works brand and marketing site.
- Built fast, mobile-first pages using semantic HTML with accessibility best practices.
- SEO Optimized with AI
- Focused on clear CTAs, performance, and a simple inquiry/contact flow.

Volunteer - Sea Mar Community Health Centers

University Place, WA | December 2022–December 2024

- Participated in Sea Mar's Christmas gift program for three consecutive years, distributing gifts to families in need

---

Education

- Incoming student (CPTC) — Network Operations and Systems, starting Sept 29, 2025

Certifications

- Studying: CompTIA A+, Network+, Security+; Microsoft Azure Fundamentals

---

Additional

- Interests: building PCs, accessible/clean UI, reading history and theology
- Availability: open to seated or remote roles work preferred due to arthritis/fibromyalgia